The New York Insurance Monitor is a prophet of evil, and thus sounds the alarm: There is enough of legitimate incendiarism now biazing through city and country, and more coming.

—A New Orleans paper says: "The Biair Guards on Friday, and the Seynour Guldes on Saturday; paraded through the streets carrying the Conference colors—the three bars, red, white, and red—which attracted general attention, and excited emotions of approximate the prediction that unusually large losses will come to the companies through that source this fall. The political contest, now thickening, has much bad blood in it, and the worst of passions are being aroused. It is of no use to wink at the fact that secret organizations now exist in the Northwhose avowed mission is to intimidate men and burn property. Right in our own beautiful country suberb, within sound of the church bells of New York, this ining is now a fact. Respectable gentlemen—a score of them—have been warned to leave the State, under penality of death, and their property threatened with the torch. Right in our own beautiful country suberb, within sound of the church bells of Newsrk, this thing is now a fact. Bespectable gentlemen—a score of them—have been warned to leave the State, under penalty of death, and their property threatened with the torch. If this were all it might go for mere wind, but during the present week one gentleman, our neighbor, has been murderously assaulted, and will probably die; and arms, emblems and secret calls for members to burn specified property have been discovered. Among other bad things that all this means, it means fire, and with that particular element it is the province of the companies to deal and ours to treat. We ring the slarm, and the companies may govern themselves accordingly or not.

GEN. RUFUS BARRINGER, formerly an officer in the Confederate army, has accepted the nomination of the Republican Elector of North Carolina. In his letter of acceptance heswas so cruel as to employ the following pointed language:

"I can, under no circumstances, vote the present Democratic programme. I have no especial fondness for Republicans; but they never deceived us, and I can at least respect and trust them. This I cannot do with the Northern Democracy. They encouraged our secession leaders into war and then described us. Gen. Grant was magnantmous to us in the surrender. He has commended the noble qualities of the Southern army. He is neither a negro hater nor a negro worshipper. It can now only be his ambition to restore the Union he has saved—to restore it in all its parts, its interests, its sympathies and its aspirations. He will not only give us peace and prosperity, but a Union we can love and a Government we can honor.

MARION COUNTY. Rebel Mob Undertake to Coere

areats and Incendiary Talk by the Mob and Its Instigators

Editor Intelligencer : FAIRMONT, Oct. 6, 1868.

FAIRMONT, Oct. 6, 1868

Apparently we came very nearly having a rebel mob yesierday in Fairmont. Notices had been sent out to about one hundred and fifty persons who claimed they had a vote in Marion county, whom the Board of Registration had reason and rebellion during the war disqualified themselves as voters.

Yesteaday was the day they were to report. Each man came and brought two or three worse rebels than himself to prove that he was loyal to the government during the rebellion. The crowd gathered around in knots to consult the rebel lawyers who had been going over our county during the last three months making what they call Democratic speeches—but properly named rebel speeches—telling them the registry law was unconstitutional, and they had a right to vote, as they paid taxes; and if they were not allowed to vote peacefully, to "be men, brave men, and vote at the point of the bayonet." The msjority of these disfranchised men, I learn, came armed to carry out their threats. They began to curse the Board of Registration, and, as the crowd increased, they became more boisterous, threatening to throw the Board out of the court house windows and out of the school district in Mount Vernon, West Chest Chound in Mount of the policy of the subject to Mount Vernon, Was held yesterday. But as the board examined the first one called (one Mr. Martin and found him in their Judgment disqualified, a second scene was commenced, loud swearing and threats of violence against the board—swearing if they got the registration books they would tear them up. A meeting was now called in the court house where James Morrow, Jr., and E. A Bennet made inflammatory speeches calculated in their character to stir up the mob to violence. Morrow denounced the board in the severest language, calling the members by many disrespectful names, and abused the Legislature of West Virginia as an 'infamous' Legislature. Bennett in his speech was more rash and vindicities than Morrow. He said "no Democration with them." Both of the speak or a Republican, or shake hands with him, or deal at their stores, or worship in the samw bongregation with them." Both of the speak or should be indicted for trying to excite a mob. This Bennett is the Democration with them." Both of the speak or as should be indicted for trying to excite a mob. This Bennett is the Democrat to fill that office. I am satisfied that the wool was pulled over our Governor's eyes, or he would not have appointed any such a man.

—The Pittsburgh Gazette is informed that "all three of the Biair family" are to throw themselves into the Pennsylvania canvass for Seymour. That will be all the better for the Republicans.

—On a railroad train in Pennsylvania a vote of the passengers was taken, which resulted: for Grant, 65; for Seymour, 10. An old lady stopped the canvasser and remarked: "I can't vote, gentlemen, but I am going to keep one Seymour man at home."

—An inquisitive young man in Waterbury, Conn., on Saturdsy evening kept tally for an hour of those giving alms to a one armed soldier who was playing an organ in front of the postoffice. Of 89 who contributed, 38 were Republicans; the politics of the remaining one was unknown.
